About the author

Dieko Bakker was born on April 18, 1992 in Wageningen, the Netherlands. He started his undergraduate studies in Sociology in 2009 at the University of Groningen. After graduating in Sociology (2012), he enrolled in the Research Master's program in Behavioural and Social Sciences at the University of Groningen. He wrote his Master's thesis on material and contextual elements of efficacy in social dilemmas and graduated in August 2014 (cum laude). The research presented in this dissertation was conducted while working at the Department of Sociology at the University of Groningen, as a member of the Interuniversity Center for Social Science Theory and Methodology (ICS). As of October 2019, he is employed as postdoctoral researcher at the Department of Sociology at the University of Groningen, and as lecturer at the University College Groningen.
